My Dear Sam,

I had an appointment with Miss Rand & A. Corbin in N. Y. on Sat. last - 27th - & Mamma went over with me. She, Edith & the children had two days in N. Y. and the intervening Sunday we all spent at Bensonhurst.
A raw, ugly day, colder to the sense probably than the more snowy region of Johnsville.
We left N. Y. (Mamma and I) Monday eve. just as rain began to fall which developed into a pour and a tornado that night and that into a snow blizzard yesterday and last night which induced me to remain here to-day.
It is now snowing but slightly but the cold is increasing and we shall have our teeth "getting about". I have just learned that Joe is laid up this morn'g with a stiff leg, having had a bad night with it - I am going up to see him. He is only 4 squares from us.
On reaching my office yesterday morn'g I found Miss Ann saying that Berenice has scarlet fever & the other children had gone to the office & age was in New O. at the Trans Mississippi Expos but I presume is at home by this time.

Does children have been at home with colds coughs and y'r Aunt's & Grandmother both sorely but they are about. Those at Cherry St. are by no means well. Your mother was never sicker than during this matter. She weighs 175.
I do not see that there is anything unusual about myself only I get tired soon & than formerly
- and I have become habitually careful perhaps weakly so but I am so constantly cautioned - and you & Dr. Davis are careful of me in S.F.
I have seen but little sunshine here but this I am told is the worst storm of the season.
I have been wondering how it is with you trust that you are well also Geo. R. and I wish that I may find a letter from you when I reach the office tomorrow morning.
I am also somewhat anxious to know how you are progressing in the mine. I wish you would catch the shot on which that mine was based on the Arastra level and make a good showing on it. That and a neat, complete connection of the Arastra tunnel with the shaft would show in itself a promising system.
Philip Corbin has gone to Florida where he &
Mr. Burnham will remain all of this month, and I shall not think of starting west until after their return and our Board meeting in April - Morton is working away as directed by Church, but the latter has not yet ret'd. W. G.
Hammars sends her love and will write you soon.
With kind remembrance to George. Yours H. S. C.
